I do the best I can to find a suitable animal for you based on the information you have provided. While I may not have what you are looking for at the present, I do wish to keep communication open between potential owners and myself for future relations.

Camden Exotic Shorthairs reserves the right not to sell a cat or kitten to anyone and for any reason. This includes, but is not limited to, the following reasons: I wish to retain the kitten for my breeding program, I have found a home that I feel is more suitable for a specific cat or kitten or any information regarding your application.

An initial deposit of $250 is required to hold a kitten. This deposit is nonrefundable and will be credited to the final purchase price of your cat or kitten. The balance of purchase is due prior to taking possession, shipping, on or before 10 weeks of age (whichever comes first).

You, (the buyer) is responsible for making necessary arrangements to retrieve or transport the cat or kitten at your expense. I may be available in certain circumstances to assist in the transportation of the cat or kitten but it is up to you as the buyer to communicate those requests in enough time to plan accordingly.

Deciding which kitten may be yours will be the result of a collaboration between you and Camden Exotic Shorthairs.
